

JULIA TALCOTT

In the cloistered recesses of her attic, Julia creates and emails her colorful line drawings all over the world. She draws her inspiration from her printmaking background, her travels to Japan, modern artists, and her family. Julia's impressive client list includes The New York Times and the US Postal Service, who commissioned her to create the holiday stamp of 1996.

JT292

JT297

JT294

JT291

JT296